Art Unit: 3641

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-5 and 15-20, drawn to a firearm including a barrel; firing chamber; and internal firearm indicia, classified in class 42, subclass 1.01.
  - II. Claim 6, drawn to a method of reading firearm indicia on a bullet casing, classified in class 42, subclass 1.05.
  - III. Claims 7-8, drawn to a firearm marking tool, classified in class 33, subclass 18.1.
  - IV. Claims 9-14, drawn to a method of using a firearm marking tool, classified in class 42, subclass 90.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:
3. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the firearm could be used with a method of marking an object other than the bullet casing (e.g. projectile).
4. Inventions [IV or III] and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the product or firearm could be made absent a firearm marking tool or with a different type of firearm marking tool.

Art Unit: 3641

5. Inventions IV and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the firearm marking tool could be used to mark something other than a firearm (e.g. tubes or any object intended to be identified).

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

8. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
